At the Bethel Planning Board meeting on Wednesday, Oct. 17, the Board talked with Ruel Swain, Stuart Cross, and George Olson about land on Chandler Hill Road they are subdividing. Discussion centered on requirements for final plat approval of a subdivision that would include land deeded to George Olson. It is thought Swain and Cross will further divide their land into lots by means of a formal plat plan to be presented sometime in the future.

The Board again took up revision of the subdivision regulations, but progress was slow, prompting the Board to appoint a subcommittee to work up drafts for the consideration of the entire Board. Donald Eddy, Richard Hosterman subcommittee. They have met through the week with Staff Assistant George Allen to develop a more advanced draft of the requirements section for the Oct. 24 meeting.

The Board also discussed ways in which they might continue to receive staff assistance when George Allen, who has been employed under a year-long CETA contract, leaves his job at the beginning of 1980.

PUBLIC HEARINGS ON BASIC SKILLS IN PROGRESS

Three of the public hearings on basic skills have been held in the communities of S. A. D. #44, with one at the Woodstock Town Hall this Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, and the final one at Newry Grange Hall, Monday evening, Oct. 29 at the same time.

The hearings in Bethel, Andover and Greenwood were held earlier this week, with representatives of the Basic Skills Committee and Board of Directors meeting with the public to address the following questions:

1. Are you satisfied with the preparation students are receiving in school? If not, specify the subject areas and the grade levels at which students are receiving insufficient preparation.
2. Do you feel that S. A. D. #44 graduates have the skills needed to succeed in the adult life outside of school? If not, what skills are lacking and what might be done to ensure that students gain these skills?
3. What should be the standards/requirements for awarding or denying a high school diploma?
4. Who should be responsible for establishing standards/requirements for awarding or denying a high school diploma?
5. Do you believe that all students should receive the same type of high school diploma?

The testimony for the basic skills committee will be gathered in three ways: through public comments at the hearings; through written comments; and through a questionnaire—the S. A. D. #44 Assessment of Basic Skills. The questionnaire is available at local stores, schools, and town offices. The questionnaires will also be available at the elementary parent conference day on Nov. 14, the middle school open house on Nov. 8, and the high school open house on Nov. 15. Completed questionnaires should be turned in to the local school building or the town office in Bethel. The Basic Skills Committee hopes for a large response to the questionnaire so that

PARENTS' WEEK END HELD AT GOULD

Over 300 parents, grandparents and families visited the Gould campus this past week end. Beginning on Friday night, they arrived for parent-teacher conferences held in the William Bingham Gymnasium. All faculty and administrators were present, so each parent could visit with every teacher their son or daughter has, as well as with their advisor and dormitory masters. Later that evening a Parents Association directors' meeting was held at Headmaster Donald W. Fudge's house. Chairpersons Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Hanson told those assembled of the functions and needs of such an organization, and advised that help was needed in four areas, namely, planning future parents' week ends, fund raising, communication and admissions.

On Saturday a full meeting of all parents was held, with Headmaster Fudge outlining activities and events, including the school's upcoming evaluation by the New England Association of Schools and Colleges in two weeks. Parent-teacher conferences continued the rest of the morning, in addition to a special seminar for senior parents concerning college placement and Senior May independent projects at Gould.

Lunch was served to all, after which four athletic contests were held with visiting teams from North Yarmouth Academy. Gould came out on the losing end, dropping the field hockey, cross country and varsity soccer games, while winning the JV soccer game.

A reception was held in the Gym for everyone following the sports events, and Saturday evening the Drama Department put on a most successful and well performed comedy, "You're a Good Kid in a Bad Way."

Telstar in Class D Football Play-Offs

The Telstar football squad, with a class D record of 3-1, will participate in a football play-off with Hall-Dale and Boothbay to determine the undisputed State Class D Champion. Telstar's lone loss came at the hands of Hall-Dale, while Boothbay (3-1) lost only to Telstar, and Hall-Dale (3-1) lost only to Boothbay. The three schools decided to hold a play-off to determine a single State Champion instead of having a three-way tie.

In the first round on Nov. 3, Boothbay will face Telstar at Maranacook, with the winner of that game facing Hall-Dale at a neutral site on Nov. 10. Telstar is hoping to gain its first State championship in five years with victories against Boothbay and Hall-Dale.

Greenwood City

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

As I write, the night has crawled through the woods and chased away the shadows. A new moon is floating among the stars which now lean closer. One feels frost for autumn is surely on our door steps. The deep lush green is gone. Watch the tree-tops which are untouched by a wisp of wind and listen. Then in a few minutes there comes a far off whisper. It increases and those same tops are in motion. Autumn leaves, crisp and rustling touch each other and the silence is broken. After this "walker" has passed by, silence is again on the October night.

Possibly we keep our lives and thoughts within too many walls and canopies and so it is good for us to stand beneath the stars and have the barriers thin away. We see a broader scope; autumn on the hills with depth and distance. We then realize there is more than day or night and that life has more than one dimension.

Like waves washing footprints from the shore; time erases memories from much of the past. But I shall always hold in memory my days when I was a tousled-haired girl, wandered saucer-eyed in the green wonderland of fragrance of damp earth, scampering wild things, and along brooks that laughed. Those things still bring me pleasure.

This week I walked the woods where leaves still trimmed the hard woods. The air was fresh and the fragrance of damp earth was all about. Nature had opened millions of bottles of perfume and the scents drifted among the evergreens.

I came to an opening and sat underneath some towering pines and white birches. The little clearing where I sat was trimmed with more densely mixed growth that had steadily crawled back to reclaim the land.

I traveled a patch and saw a plump partridge rise from beside some ferns. I was lucky that I wasn't a hunter at this time or it might not have flown away.

Up by the old cellar holes there was a strong emptiness today except for the jays' jeers and the chickadees' calls.

Kidnappers looking out across the valley one comes to an understanding for the reason why the pioneer farmers left their hillside farms and descended to the valley floor.

Going down the hillside I walked among the goldenrods with brown tangles of stems, and tawny plumes near old walls were polished mahogany acorns in their tannish-brown caps and the oaks in leaves of brown.

On the same day a small flock of geese walked the farm field where Clyde was picking apples. They flew up at his approach then circled above his head then left for the pond. This tells us that seasonal weather has begun to settle in, up where the geese spend the summer. Most birds migrate in silence but not the geese. As they vanish from sight toward the south and I listen to the last echo of their going, I usually feel faintly sad. Maybe it's the echo of another summer which has vanished.

"The wild geese on their annual trek
In haste go flying high,
And Indian summer spreads her veil
Of gray across the sky,"
Hattie Pope

I reached home realizing more than ever before that summer has melted into autumn. Its harbingers are plainly here, earlier darkness, chillier air, a sharper whistle to the wind, and fallen leaves

North Paris

— Eveline Barrett, Corres. —

Such lovely weather to finish up the fall chores. Some mornings are quite frosty but it warms up.

Doris Lawrence went to Greenwood to help Stevie Millett celebrate his 13th birthday, Oct. 17. Saturday evening she went to the Bryant Pond gym to a dance to benefit the school. The music was "wonderful" but very few people attended. If the parents couldn't attend, they should have made a donation at least.

Next week end, Oct. 28, we set clocks back to standard time. Then it will be dark earlier. I like fast time better.

Last Thursday morning at 9:20 two school buses hadn't come, so I picked up the Rainey boy, two Keenes, three Tripps, as I was going to town office to pay my taxes. They had been by the road side since 8 o'clock. They came home on the buses at 3:10 and 3:30.

David Lyons took advantage of the lovely weather Sunday afternoon and putted windows at the Community Hall. That's better than being on the couch with hot packs. I hope I graduate soon.

Callers at Lawrence's: Sandra Coffin, Jeff and Jimbo, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Card, Maureen, Brenda, Stevie Millett, Eveline Barrett, "Pete" Lawrence and wife, Polly.

Lucious Newton has been at Norway hospital for x-rays several days this past week.

Eveline Barrett visited a few minutes with Edgar and Lettie Davis, Pinhook, Oct. 22, and took them a corn chowder. Doris Lawrence sent a pan of biscuits to them.

Northwest Bethel

— Clarice Gibson, Corres. —

Sunday was one of those rare October days that make us want to stay outdoors and finish up those jobs that we keep putting off. People along the road were working on wood piles, putting on storm windows, and just getting tightened up for winter in general. We picked up what apples hadn't been picked and took them down to South Paris to grind into cider. Well, Wilfred, Frank and Ira did. We also worked some on splitting and stacking firewood and Saturday Frank went to Sabattus to watch the football game (Telstar won) and when they got home they worked on loading bullets and putting on the bullets. While they were gone Frankie and Wilfred had been taking out old primers and resizing the casing and putting in new primers. While they were working Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aylward stopped in for a visit. I'm sorry to say that I was not very good company.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy had Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hannon, Mary Beth and Amy for Sunday dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hannon of Durham, N. H., were week end guests the 13th of their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hannon and girls.

Robert and Joyce Stearns and his aunt, Vivian Barlow of Andover, went to York Beach Saturday to visit relatives of Bob's and Mrs. Barlow.

Thomas Deroc of Oxford, nephew of Leslie Lapham, visited Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham went to Rumford Thursday for Leslie's glasses and after Leslie went to Fish and Game supper in Locke Mills.

Mrs. Thelma Merrill and Gerry Shimamura went to St. Albans to see Rev. and Ronald Huse and had lunch with them. Rev. Huse was pastor of Nazarene Church in Bethel a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shimamura, Jody, and Thelma Merrill, went to the Nazarene Church last week for Mr. and Mrs. John Mills' wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aylward had supper Wednesday night with Thelma Merrill and the Shimamuras and Saturday night at the Odd Fellows Hall in Bethel.

We got a card today from our son, George and they had just been to Naples, Italy and were heading for Alexandria, Egypt.

Pat Saunders and Richard went to Albert Morton's and sons to celebrate Joshua Morton's first birthday. Joshua is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Morton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Seames and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Gibbs and Heather and Mr. and Mrs. Greg Fraser and Jason from Newry, had a get-together supper at Seames' Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson went to Sabattus Sunday to visit their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gardner and family and stayed for dinner.

Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson went to visit Ann Byers and Mrs. Velma Skillings, East Oxford and then ate at Bean's restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Benson and other friends of Bethel, went to Locke Mills dance Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason III, and children had Sunday dinner with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Morgan Sunday.

John Carter, East Bethel, Matthew Laban, Andy Smith and Vince Chapman camped out in the camper at Howard Chapman's Friday night.

Mrs. Ernest Angevine, Mrs. Judy Coolidge and two girls were in Lewiston Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Coolidge and girls went to Odd Fellows supper Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lapham have been having their house insulated.

Elizabeth Morse, aunt of Steve Anderson, has returned to her work in Pompano Beach, Fla.

Kristy Angevine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Angevine is at her home recovering from bronchitis.

Stan Moore Jr., was taken back to Maine Medical Center to have his hand checked from his surgery on his fingers.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Glines have been having her mother, Mrs. Olga Seidensticker, of South Milwaukee, Wis., for a month's vacation. The Glines have had several family get-togethers while Mrs.

Seidensticker has been visiting. The Glines also had Miss Margaret Bracher of Fredericksburg, Texas, visiting for two weeks.

Jim called Friday night and was glad to hear from him. Was sorry Wilfred and Frank, had gone to Frank and Grace's, so he couldn't talk with his brother.

Thursday Frankie, Wilfred and I went to Rumford and ate at the Spa on the way home.

The coydogs are getting braver on our road. Barbara MacDougall and Sue Angevine saw one in the road while they were for a ride. A couple of days Gerry Shimamura saw one down near Moore's and last week Ruth and Charlie Mason saw one while in a car.

Little Scott Mason celebrated his second birthday Oct. 20 at his parents home, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Mason in Gilead, jointly with his grandmother, Ruth Mason. Ruth's was the 20th, Scott's the 21st. A lot of Gilead friends attended. Kathie Mason and three children and Charles, Carole and Melinda. When Ruth and family got home, her folks Mr. and Mrs. Pat Murphy, came with a birthday cake and Melinda also made her mother a cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mason Jr., Carole and Melinda and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Aylward, had dinner on the mountain. Jody Shimamura rode his bike up later to join them.

Doug Smith, Cape Cod, Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Smith and Shawn, North Conway, N. H., were Saturday overnight guests and stayed for Sunday dinner.

Last night October lit the torches of the sunac trees

Fanned by her cloak,
Go up in a cloud of white aster smoke!

Newry

— Miss Amy Hanscom, Corres. —

Mr. and Mrs. Jeffrey Littlehale are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter in Newry, Oct. 16. She weighed 6 lbs. 12 oz., and has been named Danielle Lyn. Mr. and Mrs. John Wight of Newry are maternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wight and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Wilson attended a truck show in Portland, Saturday.

The Newry Group of Extension met Wednesday Oct. 17, at the home of Elsie Inman, with Mrs. Inman, leader. A discussion of ready made bargains and second hand clothing was held. The group sang "Happy Birthday" to Iola Forbes, and she was presented cards and gifts. The next meeting originally scheduled for Nov. 21, will be postponed until after Thanksgiving. It will be held at the home of Mrs. Marjorie Cummings, date to be announced later.

Joshua Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morton, Jr., was guest of honor at a birthday party, at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Eleanor Morton, Sunday. Attending were Mrs. Morton, Jock and Peter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Morton, Jr., and Joshua, Newry; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Morton, Mrs. Patricia Saunders and Richard, Bethel. The birthday cake was made and decorated by Vikki Morton.

Mrs. Vikki Morton and Joshua spent three days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cummings, Cape Elizabeth, and Joshua was given a birthday party there.

Mrs. Louise Learned has returned home after visiting for two weeks with Mrs. Patricia Mountain and family, Moodus, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. George Learned and family, New Britain, Conn.

The Windy Valleys Snowmobile Club met Thursday evening, Oct. 18, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Wight. Plans were made to hold a "Work Day" to work on trails in Grafton. Workers will meet at Spruce Meadows Picnic Area in Grafton Notch. A hot dog roast will be held at noon for workers.

James Norris of the State Bureau of Taxation met here with the Selectmen Friday morning to discuss Newry's 1978 Tree Growth Tax reimbursement. In December of 1978 Newry received $2,837.34 from the State for partial Tree Growth reimbursement. An additional $3,129.16 was received in July of this year, for a total of $5,966.50. This amount was $601.49 less than the Selectmen's estimated reimbursement. Chairman of Selectmen, Roger E. Hanscom, contacted Frederick Wilson, and others of the Bureau of Taxation by letter and phone in regards to the apparent shortage. When he had failed to get a satisfactory explanation by Oct. 1, he then contacted State Representative Karen L. Brown and Governor Brennan. On Oct. 18, he received a telephone call from Mr. Norris, stating that his figure was correct and that the additional $601.49 would be paid. Norris met here with the Claude Lavallee had his basement floor surfaced with concrete during the week end. Gilles Viers had made the preparations earlier.

Folks were divided into two classes a couple of weeks ago—Those who couldn't believe it would last so they shivered through or stayed where they could push the thermostat and those who would rather be comfortable and they donned the longjohns. Now the second group are faced with choosing to dress with the 70-plus degree weather, or according to the calendar.

Wilfred and Laurens Lavallee built the top of the chimney at Heritage Farm Monday, Oct. 22. The weather was calm, sunny and the temperature in the 70's.

Many people are having a flu-type virus.
Marian and Fred went to East Summer to the benefit supper for the Sidney Abbotts who recently lost their home. Sunday they went to North Anson to visit Oscar and Margie Judkins.

Selectmen Friday morning and further confirmed that the payment would be made. Norris stated that because of Newry's present revaluation the wrong assessment ratio had been used by the State in calculating the refund. He stated that 20 other Towns had been similarly affected.

The Tree Growth Tax Law was discussed further at the meeting, as to changes that might be made. In 1978, Newry lost over $10,000 under the law, over the amount of the reimbursement. Hanscom stated that he felt the law should be changed, and that municipalities should tax Tree Growth land the same as other woodlots not under Tree Growth. Owners would then file a claim with the State, similar to the Elderly Persons Tax and Rent Refund Claim, and the State then make the refund to the land owners. A severance tax on wood cut from Tree Growth land would be assessed, this tax to finance the refund. Norris stated that he felt that his office could easily handle such a program, and that a tax, possibly as low as five cents per cord on wood cut on Tree Growth acreage could finance the refunds. In this way, woodland owners would get the benefit of Tree Growth, and would pay when wood was harvested.

Another topic discussed at Friday morning's meeting was the Bethel Water District's claim to tax exempt status on their land in Newry. The law clearly exempts Water District's pipes, buildings, plants, etc. located in another Town from taxation, but does not mention land. The Selectmen feel, and Norris and others from the Bureau of Taxation agree, that the land is taxable. Norris stated that several other water districts in the State owned land in other Towns, and that all paid taxes on the land. Bethel has paid taxes on the land since the district was formed in 1967, but notified Newry in July of this year that they were claiming tax exemption on the land. Presently the land in question is

Children's Center

What fantastic weather! Let's hope it holds a while longer.

Activities at the Center this week are centered around Maine weather; especially how it varies this time of year. The children have been taking walks, learning words associated with, and painting pictures of "weather."

This week's "Star of the Week" is Cathy Adams.

On Wednesday morning, Oct. 31, at 10:00 will be a Halloween party! It would be nice to see all the kids in costume. Parents are invited to attend. It should be a fun time for all.

Gov. Brennan has declared the week of Oct. 22 Maine Head Start Week in recognition of 1979 being the International Year of the Child. To celebrate this week all parents and interested community members are invited to visit the Center. Please call if you can — 824-3700.

This week Melinda, who has been cook at the Center will be leaving. She is wished luck in her new job. Replacing Melinda will be Jennifer Gray. Her children, Molly and Luke, will be at the Center also.

Reminder: A week from this Saturday, Nov. 3, is the day to go bowling at the Rumford bowling lanes. Scouts will meet at the A & P parking lot 9:15 a. m. Bring your sister, bring your grandfather, but most of all, Cub, bring the boy that sits next to you in school.

under Tree Growth, but there is some doubt as to whether or not it qualifies, since the law clearly states that the land must be used primarily for forest production, and the Selectmen feel that since this land is used to protect the watershed, it is not used primarily for forest production.

North Waterford

— Mrs. Jo Sanderson, Cor. —

We have been having a few beautiful days of Indian summer and it seems good to have it warmer after those real frosty days a week ago.

Heidi Farris of Claremont, N. H., has been spending a week with her grandparents, the Lee Lord's and they took her home Saturday morning.

Please don't forget to donate time and some money towards the children's Halloween Party Oct. 31 at 6-8 p. m. at the Grange Hall here in town.

Winola Brown leaves Monday morning for Inverness, Fla., where she will spend the winter.

Lee Lord is helping Oscar Andrews with some work on his new home which they are building here on the hill. It will be nice to have them for neighbors.

Mrs. Frank Pike of Bridgton had supper Thursday night with her sister, Josephine Sanderson.

The Church Circle ladies could use some help on the Christmas wreaths this year. If you would like to help contact Marjorie Kimball or Christie Lord.

The South Waterford Congregational Church held a special budget meeting Friday night at the church vestry with 14 members and Pastor Jeff Hooker acting as moderator. Clerk Winola Brown read the minutes of last meeting and they were approved. The treasurer's report was read and accepted.

It was suggested to try to contact some of the members that haven't been to church for a long time and get them back in again.

Church delegates appointed were Ruth Kingsley and Marjorie Kimball. As most of the members felt the budget was too high and it would be impossible to raise that much money, it was voted not to accept it at this time.

It was voted to meet at a later

THIS IS HEAD START WEEK

Governor Joseph Brennan has proclaimed that the week of Oct. 22 is HEAD START WEEK in the State of Maine. This is part of Head Start's contribution to the International Year of the Child.

Richard K. Woodbury, Director of Children's Services for Oxford County Community Services, who is also Chairperson of the Maine Head Start Director's Association, reports that there are 14 Head Start Programs in the state, which serve approximately 14,050 preschool children and their families.

Oxford County Community Services operates three (3) Head Start Centers. These are located in the areas of Norway, Roxbury, and West Bethel. A total of sixty (60) children and their families are served in Oxford County.

The Head Start Program is designed to provide education, health, mental health, nutrition, parent involvement and social services.

The health program stresses immunizations, growth measurement, vision and hearing screening, physical examinations and arrangements for medical and dental treatment.

Education in the program stresses language development, concepts of shape, color, size, weight, science, art, music, and physical development.

Children in the program receive hot nutritious meals. Both the children and their parents receive education in proper nutrition.

Parent involvement in both program decision making and classroom operation is encouraged. Parents are also assisted in finding the social services they may require.

Ten per cent of the program's slots are available to children with handicapping conditions. These conditions include the areas of deafness, mental retardation, visual impairment, emotional disturbance, or physical handicaps. The children are provided the necessary services they may need.

Head Start works with other agencies to provide these necessary services.

Woodbury has noted that he would like to take this opportunity to invite any interested person to visit one of the Head Start Centers. Community people are highly encouraged to drop in on one of the Centers, which are in operation Monday through Thursday, usually from 8:30 a. m. until 1:30 p. m.

HALLOWEEN CAUTION URGED BY PUBLIC SAFETY DEPT.

Motorists and parents are encouraged to be extra alert for the safety of children on Halloween.

"With youngsters in varied colored costumes rushing from yards and driveways, motorists should drive extra cautiously in neighborhoods where children may be 'trick or treating,'" said Commissioner Arthur A. Stipphen, Maine Department of Public Safety. "Also, parents should be alert for any altered treats their children may bring home."

Although some parents may be accompanying their children, other youngsters will be on their own. Thus, in the excitement of the evening, unescorted are likely to forget caution in crossing roads and walking along roadways.

Parents can help keep their youngsters safe by selecting bright yellow, orange or white costumes. Specifically recommended are costumes made of reflective material, or making a design with reflectorized tape (which can be bought in automotive supply stores). In addition, children should carry a flashlight to light their way and to provide better visibility to motorists.

With visibility greatly reduced this time of year by earlier darkness and possible rain motorists are advised to make sure their windshield wipers are functioning properly, and to drive carefully where costumed youngsters may be walking or running along the roadway.

Stipphen encourages parents not to let their children eat of their treats until they arrive home, at which time an adult can closely examine all collected goodies. Unwrapped candy should be discarded, and fruit should be examined to see if it has been altered in any way.

NEW FILM EXPLORES

CHANGE IN SMALL TOWNS

Are Maine's small towns an endangered species?

A new color film produced by the University of Southern Maine's

Allagash Environmental Institute explores the problems of a municipality's changing way of life.

"Here Today..." was filmed in Limington and will have its first public showing at 8 p. m. Friday,

Oct. 26 at Limington Town Hall.

A panel discussion will follow.

The event is open to the public,

free of charge.

Funded by the Maine Council for Humanities and Public Policy, the film focuses on the town's traditional activities—the fourth of July parade, the local fair, the annual Town Meeting and includes interviews with local residents.

Scenes of Limington as it is today contrasted with historical photos, depicting the town as it was in what the older residents

see as its Golden Era—a time when the town depended upon its own resources for both its livelihood and its way of life.

"Now," explains Pat Solataire,

project director for USM's Allagash

Environmental Institute, "the older residents feel 'big business' has made it impossible for the small farmer to survive, 'big government' has taken vital decisions out of their hands and the Age of the Automobile has turned their town into a commuter community."

Notes Ms. Solataire, "Their view of the old days is not a sentimental

one. They remember that times were hard and opportunities few,

but they still feel that something valuable has been lost."

The film also includes footage of a newcomer to the town who

RELEASE BUTTERFLIES—Last week the fourth grade class at

Andover Elementary School released over 20 monarch butterflies.

The students had raised from caterpillars.

The students learned about the life cycle of insects as they watched the creatures change from larva to pupa (chrysalis) to butterfly.

Monarchs from the eastern U.S.

and Canada migrate to the country of Mexico every fall.

GREATEST HALLOWEEN

DANGER IS CLOTHING FIRE

The State Fire Marshal warns

that the greatest hazard at Halloween is the clothing fire.

"The trick of keeping Halloween safe for the youngsters is to treat

it as a fire and costumes produce tragedy," said State Fire Marshal

Bon Bisset of the Maine Department of Public Safety.

Bisset suggests the following basic safety rules for Halloween:

If costumes are purchased at a store, be sure they are marked

"flame-proofed." This includes masks, wigs and beards. If costumes are homemade, the flame-proofing process can be done at home

also, using a solution of borax and boric acid. But never rely completely on flameproofing

treatment, and be sure that children in costumes keep a respectful distance from any source of flame, or intense heat.

For added safety, see that costumes are short enough so youngsters

don't trip on them, and of light colors so motorists can easily see them.

Use a flashlight to light up the pumpkin which the children carry

—never a candle which can set clothing afire.

Indoors, lighted candles for decorative purposes can be risky too, because autumn leaves, dry cornstalks and berry branches and similar fall decorative arrangements ignite easily. Watch out for light bulbs, open fires and smoking near such decorations.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
FOOD FAIR A SUCCESS

The Congregational Church food fair on Saturday, Oct. 20, was a great success. A great variety of homegrown vegetables were contributed and sold throughout the afternoon. The proceeds of the sale went to CROP, a world hunger relief fund.

In addition to the sale, the vegetables were judged by local "experts" Steve Wight, Tim Carter, and Jim Chandler.

The results of the judging is as follows: longest carrots, Don Eddy; best leeks, Don Eddy; most colorful cabbage, Frances Harding; best overall leaf crop, Frances Harding; biggest pumpkin, Barbara James; best looking turnip, Barbara James; biggest beets, Barbara James; smallest cabbage (Brussels sprouts), Barbara James; best formed beets, Mary Valentine; best formed carrots, Mary Valentine; smoothest potatoes, Helen Morton; biggest turnip, Tom Caton; most risqué squash (naked-seeded), Tom Caton; biggest squash, Tom Caton; biggest onions, Tom Caton; best formed squash, Jim Chandler.

The Congregational Church is thankful for everyone who contributed to the success of the food fair. Congratulations to all of the fantastic gardeners in the Bethel area.

MUNDT-ALLEN UNIT #81
AMERICAN LEGION AUXILIARY

The American Legion Auxiliary, Mundt-Allen Unit #81, met on Tuesday evening at the Legion Hall. There were three officers and seven members present. Bills were paid and donations made. Thank you notes were read from Red Cross and Gold Star Mothers. It was noted that the Poppy order has arrived. President Abbie Buswell is having some trouble enlisting aid for game nights. With the number of members it would seem that when asked to help one should if at all possible, either to work or make sandwiches. It was voted to sponsor the Defensive Driving Course this year. This is a four-week course with the fifth week as a special for a C.P.R. demonstration. A notice will be placed in the paper when the dates are set. Five members from Bethel attended the Oxford County Council at Buckfield. There will be no O.C.C. in November. Bethel will be the host in December. Things for the Tostus Gift Shop may be left at Brooks Store, please before Nov. 10. These things do not need to be wrapped. Just check them in with Jeri at the store. There will be a field service orientation workshop at the near future. A date on this will be announced. Anyone that his granddaughter, Janice Bailey, of Florida, wrote was read. Bill received many gifts, cards, and money. And a birthday cake that was made by Leona Flint. Bill also received a birthday card from his grandson, Loren Young, from Korea.

My dearest Grandfather - I cannot be there to share all the fun and happiness on your 80th birthday. I would like to be there in your thoughts so here's a poem to put in your memory.

Special Love
I see my grandfather in the spring time
When all the days are bright.
I see my grandfather in summer days
And in the summer nights
When the moon beams down
Upon that special love
The stars are bright above.
I see my grandfather in autumn
Before the winter chill.
I see my grandfather in the winter time
When all the earth is still.
Though the pure white snow is falling
It doesn't show our special love.
I love my grandfather all year round
I love him with a hug
And that my friend is a Very special love.
Love always

Explanation of Articles to be Voted on at Special Election - Tuesday, Nov. 6

Returnable Container Question
"Do you wish to REPEAL the returnable container law (Bottle Bill)?"

If the "Bottle Bill" is repealed it would eliminate the returnable bottle law which we now have in effect and you would return to using throwaway containers.

Proposed Constitutional Amendment
"Shall the Constitution of Maine be amended to remove the Literacy requirements for eligibility to vote?"

The purpose of this resolution is to repeal that section of the Maine Constitution which requires that a person must be able to read the Constitution in the English language and write his name before he can vote. This amendment is needed to make our Constitution compatible with federal intent.

Referendum Question #1
"Shall a bond issue be ratified in the amount of $16,500,000 for bridge and highway improvements?"

These funds will permit the continuation of an ongoing, basic program to improve deteriorated Maine roads and bridges in all areas of the State. The major portion of the bond issue, $9.1 million, or 58%, will be used to improve bridges in serious condition. Other projects will emphasize safety improvements and upgrade the existing programs. At present the Department has $32.9 million committed highway bonds that have been approved, but not issued.

Referendum Question #2
"Shall a bond issue be ratified in the amount of $11,810,000 for public fish piers, airports and other transportation improvements?"

From an economic development standpoint, in order to attract and provide clean, small industries, Maine must have a safe and adequate airport system. To take advantage of the 200-mile limit and allow fishermen to offload their catch and take on supplies, access to adequate, safe piers is necessary. This bond issue could help in that effort.

Approval of these funds will assist local communities in improving safety and conditions of existing facilities at Maine airports (over 33 airports have been included in the Transportation Improvements Program).

The Maine fishing industry will be aided by these monies to provide and improve basic fish pier facilities at priority locations along Maine's coast.

Ratification will include a provision to upgrade terminal facilities and vessels of the Maine State Ferry Service which operates in Penobscot Bay. Also included will be necessary improvements at the Maine State Pier, as well as a state-wide rail improvement program.

Referendum Question #3
"Shall a bond issue be ratified in the amount of $2,500,000 for energy conservation improvements?"

At the present time Maine has $282,050,000 in bonds issued and outstanding. In addition, voters have approved an additional $149,988,355 which have not been issued yet. That represents a total potential debt of $432,038,355 in a state with slightly over a million people. The principal and interest in the bonds alone for fiscal year 1979-80 is $35,278,049.35.

ARCHAEOLOGY STUDENTS AT
Gould Academy view a "dig" on a recent visit to Mt. Jasper, Berlin, N. H., site of a 5,000 year old Indian rhyolite mine, which is being excavated by a group of Harvard students.

GOULD ARCHAEOLOGY STUDENTS VISIT PREHISTORIC DIG

Recently the Archaeology class at Gould visited Mt. Jasper in Berlin, N. H. The site is a mine operated by the Indians inhabiting that area about 5,000 years ago. It is being carefully excavated by a group of Harvard students under the direction of Dr. Bruce Gramley, of the Harvard-Peabody Museum in Boston.

The Indians chipped out pieces of rhyolite, a fine-grained, glassy rock from a deposit of the material on the top and side of Mt. Jasper. They used the rhyolite to make a wide variety of stone implements, such as scrapers, points, gauges and knives. After the Indians had exhausted the deposit of rhyolite on the top of Mt. Jasper, they moved down the cliff face and began an extensive mine into the mountain. This mine even has a pillar supporting the roof, which is a very sophisticated mining technique even today.

The Gould students had an opportunity to attempt to make an artifact from the rhyolite.

The site is open to the public and it is hoped that it will become city property, thus protecting it for future generations. Gould's Archaeology class will next visit the Maine State Museum in Augusta to speak with the director and conservator of artifacts at that institution.

Volunteers who assisted with the operations of the Moses Mason Museum during the 1979 season were honored Friday evening at the museum with a bountiful boiled dinner prepared by the Museum Committee of the Bethel Historical Society. Following the dinner, a slide-tape cassette lecture on wall paper and the historic house was presented which was of special interest to the group.

Judith Haskell, co-chairwomen of the Museum Committee, which sponsored the event, thanked everyone present for their participation and expressed the hope that all present would continue their interest. Mrs. Haskell cited the work of her co-chairwoman Marge Noll for her long hours and many contributions to the success of the museum. Society Director Stanley Howe also expressed appreciation to the group for their fine work and cited Barbara H. Brown for again providing the museum with such attractive floral arrangements twice each week during the summer season.

Attending were: Beatrice Conrad, Ruth Ames, Persis Post, Gertrude Hutchins, Maxine Brown, Margaret Joy Tibbets, Amy Davis, Francis Harding, Helen Morton, Carol Gersen, Karen Bean, Carolyn Brooks, Julia Brown, Larry Billings, Barbara H. Brown, Mary Valentine, Nell Valentine, Edith Eddy, Edna York, Rosalind Chapman, Floribel Haines, Agnes Haines, Judith Haskell, and Stanley Howe.

Also assisting but unable to attend were Ernestine Jackson, Mary Lou Cole, Geraldine Howe, Elizabeth Bane, Mary Smith, and Carol Fiske.

CARD OF THANKS

I would sincerely like to thank my sons and daughters and their families, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and many relatives and friends for my surprise birthday party. The thoughts and gifts were greatly appreciated.
